

TO ALL VMAC AIR COMPRESSOR OWNERS

March 25 2019

Further to VMAC's press release dated 23rd July 2018 announcing the immediate termination of its agreement with Original Limited to represent the VMAC brand in the United Kingdom, this advice is intended to remove any confusion from the marketplace as to authorised representation of VMAC products.

VMAC supplies a wide range of market leading engine driven air compressors, electronic control systems and air/oil separators to fit a wide variety of vehicle platforms within the UK and Europe. Previously these systems were marketed and sold in the UK by Original Ltd, where the air compressor system, namely the air compressor, air oil separator tanks and electronic control system, were comprised of VMAC manufactured components. These systems are easily identifiable by the system control box or the VMAC branding on the compressor itself.

As such, we wish to confirm as per our website dealer locator that the only official dealer within the UK authorised by VMAC to sell, install, service and repair our products is Techni Limited. No other company in the UK is authorised by VMAC to sell, install, service or repair VMAC products, including those that may have been part of a system sold by Original Ltd.

VMAC wishes to ensure that all customers using VMAC air compressor systems are able to take advantage of VMAC's Lifetime Warranty, which requires that only genuine VMAC parts be used, and work undertaken by VMAC authorised representatives, both of which are exclusively available through Techni Limited.

In order to ensure your VMAC products are installed and repaired correctly, updated to the latest specifications using only genuine VMAC parts, we strongly recommend only using our officially approved UK distributor, Techni Limited.

Sincerely,

Gordon Duval
